ADELANTE

An award-winning documentary that tells the story of St. Patrick's Church in suburban Philadelphia where Mexican newcomers are revitalizing a dying Irish-Catholic parish. Now, the sounds of children giggling have returned to the church, and mariachis join bagpipers in celebrating community events.

Thurs. April 23, 7 p.m.

St. Anthony's Church 1359 Acushnet Ave
Discussion afterwards with director Noam
Osband and community leaders

The screening is sponsored by the New Bedford Human Relations Commission, Catholic Social Services, the Immigrant Assistance Center, Community Economic Development Council, the Centro Comunitario de Trabajadores, United Interfaith Action and the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth Sociology and Anthropology Department.
