When the Leaves begin to turn from their summer green to their vibrant colors of Autumn what could be better than a tour through the rolling hills of Massachusetts

What rocks you back on your heels is when you discover the mile-long, tree-lined Old Main Street in this most rural part of Massachusetts lined by gorgeous homes from the 18th- and 19th-century, and three working farms, is the way this heart of colonial America seems to have risen from the surrounding landscape of cornfields, rivers, and hills. The sense of place, of the influence of the range of our past into the present, is instilled in every flagstone, every brick, every clapboard building, and the 1774 liberty pole with its flag of freedom. This is the best documented small town in America,

Our tour consist of a wonderful Buffet luncheon at this 5 star restaurant followed by a cooking demonstration wit their very own vegetables & herbs from their Gardens and a self guided afternoon tour on your own to see how America lived back in the days of the early settlers.
