From the Top Shelf

A message from Stephen Fulchino, Library Director

Check out a museum!

It's that time of year again... the time when children will be out of school for the summer and looking for things to do!

In addition to all the great programs the library has to offer, you can also get free and discounted museum passes. All library locations have passes to the Buttonwood Zoo; the Main Library has other local and non-local museum passes. The passes can only be taken out on adult library cards.

Since summer is the prime time for patrons to use the passes, it's best to plan in advance and reserve the pass you want either in person, by telephone, or online through our Web site www.newbedfordlibrary.org.

During the summer the Library has passes to the following:

- Buttonwood Park Zoo – admits 4 people for free
- New Bedford Whaling Museum – admits 2 adults and two children at half the current admission price
- Ocean Explorium – admits up to 8 people at half the current admission price
- Boston Children's Museum – admits 4 people at the half the current admission price
- JFK Museum and Library – admits 2 people at $3 per person
- Museum of Science – admits 4 people at $7.00 per person (does not include the Omni Theatre or the Planetarium)
- Museum of Fine Arts – admits 2 people at $7.00 per person for general admission
- New England Aquarium – admits 4 people at $10 per person
- Plimoth Plantation – admits 2 adults at $12.00 per person and 2 children for $8.00 per person

If a pass needs to be returned, please do it the next day. Someone is likely to be waiting for it. The fine is $5.00 per day.

The replacement fee for a lost pass is $25.00. Therefore, please be careful. The Library would much rather have the pass than the fine!
