EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Upper Harbor Vision Plan is an effort undertaken by the City of New Bedford, the New Bedford Economic Development Council (NBEDC), MassDevelopment, and Goody Clancy, to create a blueprint for the revitalization of this historic industrial area. The New Bedford Upper Harbor and Acushnet River estuary neighborhoods, which was the focus of these events, is bounded at the south by I-195, at the west by Acushnet Avenue, at the north by Wood Street, and at the east by the waterfront.

This Upper Harbor planning effort is being executed as a two-phase process. Phase one focuses on the development of a community vision, gathered through a public planning process and the second phase will develop a comprehensive district plan that reflects the visioning process towards the goal of implementation. The complete vision plan will be completed and presented in the early fall.

Visioning Workshop

A public presentation and a charette were held on the weekend of February 15, 2008 at the Joseph Abboud Manufacturing Corporation mill located within the district. This event was advertised in the Standard Times newspaper, on the local radio station, WBSM, and Mayor Scott W. Lang issued a press release, which was also posted on the city's website. The NBEDC and the City's Planning Office also sent out mass emails to their contacts from various organizations, including the NBEDC's Council members, the Coalition of Buzzards Bay, and Neighborhoods United, which represent the city's neighborhood associations.

On Friday evening, the students from MIT's Design/Build Studio/Workshop presented their design for the community boathouse and rowing facility that will be located along the Acushnet River, with a possible site at the end of Sawyer Street. The evening was great success, with over one hundred people in attendance. On the following day, approximately sixty people arrived at the mill to participate in a daylong charette. This process, overseen by the consultant firm of Goody Clancy, consisted of breaking everyone into several groups in the morning to review maps and visuals of the study area and discuss ideas, concerns and visions for what the plan should focus upon. After lunch, the groups reconvened and determined their top goals and objectives for the District. At the end of the day, the groups all merged to create one audience to which each group presented their ideas.

Goody Clancy documented the notes, plans, and supporting materials from the morning and afternoon sessions of the February 16 Upper Harbor Community Visioning Workshop. Summaries of each group's discussion, including the goals and issues that received the greatest emphasis, followed by verbatim transcripts of the map and poster notes taken by each group's facilitators (refer to New Bedford Upper Harbor Community Visioning Workshop Shaping the Future of the Upper Harbor February 15th & 16th,, 2007 Summary Report & Workshop Record).

Community Input on the Vision

The City and NBEDC then presented the draft vision plan to the community to ensure that Goody Clancy's vision plan was what the public envisioned for the Upper Harbor District. The planning team recognized that a greater level of involvement was needed to reach a broader base in the district and to attempt to break through language barriers. The City, NBEDC, and MassDevelopment decided that the best way to accomplish this goal was to schedule several meetings in a variety of familiar locations in the district, at different times with translators available, to attract as many participants as possible. The community meetings were held on:

- Wednesday, July 30th at Brooklawn Senior Center at 6pm
- Saturday, August 2nd at 9:30am outside at Riverside Park gazebo
- Thursday, August 7th at Saint Anthony's Church hall

Community meetings were publicized through an array of outreach methods, including:

- Weekly Saturday morning local Portuguese radio station talk show
- Weekly Compass newspaper in both English and Portuguese
- El Latino Expreso newspaper in Spanish
- O Jornal newspaper in Portuguese
- Meetings dates were printed for several weeks in the Saint Anthony's Church bulletin
- The Assistant City Planner and the Preservation Planner spoke on the Upper Harbor during the Mayor's monthly Friday morning talk show, live at City Hall
- Fliers were printed in English, Spanish and Portuguese and were placed on the city's website
- 2,000 of these multilingual fliers were dropped in the upper harbor neighborhood by Youth Court, a group that oversees youth performing community service hours
- Mass emails were distributed to the City Council and City department heads
- Multilingual fliers were emailed to Neighborhoods United, the umbrella group for the city's neighborhood associations, and the Bullard Street Neighborhood Group

The meetings presented lively discussion and common themes emerged. The common themes expressed by the participants during these sessions include:

- Develop the Acushnet Avenue Corridor as an international market with a greatly enhanced physical presence and character that emphasizes local and independent shop owners and encourages an increase in pedestrian activity.
- Targeted and increased marketing of existing strengths (i.e. restaurants, parks, etc.) to both New Bedford residents and visitors.
- Accelerated development of the river-walk and other access points to the waters edge such as the boathouse and former Reliable Truss site.
- Market and promote development and public access along the river and a revitalized Acushnet Avenue as new sources of pride for the city, turning long perceived negatives into new strengths for the city.

COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION

The community meetings began with participants being greeted by the NBEDC and Planning staff that encouraged them to review the visuals, and ask any questions they may have regarding the draft vision plan, the process, etc.

Each community meeting included a brief presentation from the NBEDC to provide the participants with an understanding of how the Upper Harbor draft plan was developed. Public input and discussion was facilitated at each meeting by the vice chair of the New Bedford Planning Board. The planning staff through flipcharts documented the participants' input on the vision plan. The following input was gathered at each of the three community meetings from approximately forty participants.

Community Meeting 1 – Brooklawn Senior Center

- Public access to waterfront
- Riverwalk should be Phase I of the implementation of the plan
 - Early access will give public better perspective of redevelopment progress of the mills
 - Create a better perception of the district
 - Spur progress in the neighborhoods and the district
- Riverwalk would provide an essential link from northern neighborhoods in the District to Riverside Park
- Perception of Riverside Park is mixed; safe during the day, unsafe at night
- Restoration of Reliable Truss site
 - Provide for canoe/kayak launch in Phase I of the project
 - “Get people on the water”
- Traffic management/calming
 - The Avenue, Ashley Blvd. and North Front St. become one-ways

 - Appreciate the access to diverse services that the Avenue provides, i.e. post office, dry cleaning, “village-living”
 - Enjoy the urban and international feel of the Avenue
 - Close the Avenue one day a week to create an open, street market with a trolley running a loop for transportation
 - Make the Avenue a destination with its own unique identity, i.e. Federal Hill, Providence, RI
 - Design uniformity in the streetscaping, with signage, streetlights, storefront awnings, street furniture, banners, planters, unique pavement applications
 - Implement empty storefront program, i.e. art in the windows through partnerships with the schools, cultural organizations

Community Meeting 2 – Riverside Park

- Redevelopment of the mills should include community needs, such as co-operative stores, mini-mall, i.e. downtown Providence, Quincy Market
- Empty, triangular lot across from Cliftex mill, should be considered for resident parking/community events, i.e. the Feast
 - Enhanced planned parking and streetscaping that require quick and easy design improvements “phase I implementation”
- Plan for future uses not revolving around traditional vehicular uses
 - In the mean time, parking may be provided in ways that do prohibit future alternative development of the sites, i.e. no structured parking
- Shuttles to events and programs on the river and throughout the city
- Improve public transit in the area
- Improve pedestrian experience through enhanced sidewalks with seating and bus shelters
- Relocate underutilized benches at Riverside Park to the playground/soccer field areas
- Community swimming pool with a pavilion
- Construct a performance half shell for movies, music, cultural events

- Riverwalk should be a dual pedestrian/bike path with delineation to accommodate the dual use
- Riverwalk promenade outlook (east/west connections) i.e. San Antonio model
- Improve streetscaping with better east/west links
 - Special streetscaping that leads to the waterfront
 - Wayfinding signage for identification, i.e. Freedom Trail
- Designate Acushnet Avenue a “slow street” with signage and speed tables, bike lanes i.e. Berkeley, CA
- Market the Avenue better with a retail directory/maps, rack cards

 - Wider sidewalks
 - One-way traffic flow on both the Avenue and Ashley Blvd. to create a loop
- Provide opportunities for façade improvements
- Create an identity for the Avenue

SUMMARY FINDINGS

Strong support was expressed from the participants at all three community meetings that the City needs to better harness the assets of the study area to ensure that they are utilized to their fullest potential. The Acushnet Avenue Corridor and the development of the river walk received enthusiastic support for complete planning and development. Many participants articulated that marketing existing assets and short-term successes are needed to build momentum in what could be a 10-year development plan.

A summary of consistently expressed comments during each of the sessions has been grouped together and are as follows:

Acushnet Avenue Corridor

- Develop the Acushnet Avenue Corridor as an international market with a greatly enhanced physical identity and character that emphasizes local and independent shop owners and encourages an increase in pedestrian activity
- Establish design review for Acushnet Avenue
- “Change the mood” – Create pedestrian-friendly Avenue
 - Address the “cruising” issue
 - Create an identity to the Avenue using streetlights, street furniture, bus shelters, etc.
- Establish a gateway experience at the Coggeshall Street entrance and gateway intersections at key locations

Riverwalk/Waterfront Access

- “Get on the river!” - Immediate water access was stressed at every meeting
 - Start at a central access point while walk is developed
 - Kayak/canoe launch at the former Reliable Truss site
- Establish east/west connections with promenades jutting into the river
- Utilize Riverside Park as an existing community asset
- Acquire easements along the waterfront so that as funding becomes available sections of the riverwalk may be constructed
- Create riverwalk connecting former Reliable Truss site to Riverside Park, thereby connecting the neighborhoods

Marketing

- Targeted and increased marketing of exiting strengths (i.e. restaurants, parks, etc.) to both New Bedford residents and visitors
- Develop a consistent source of funding and management for promotional activity
- Market on a equal level with the downtown
- Market and promote development and public access along the river and a revitalized Acushnet Avenue as new sources of pride for the city, turning long perceived negatives into new strengths for the city

Neighborhoods

- Increase homeownership to address quality of life issues/concerns
- Provide funds for exterior home improvements

The main goal of the community meetings was to encourage greater participation from residents and stakeholders who live and work in the project area, through extensive outreach. The participants in attendance were energetic and represented a wide range of stakeholders, though the residents of the neighborhood made up a small number of total participants. The reason for the less than expected resident turn out may be attributed to this type of event being foreign to their experience and the fact that this area of the city has a low homeownership rate, and therefore residents in the area are not as invested as in other sections of the city.

As the visioning process concludes, public outreach must be continued and intensified to overcome skepticism and apathy regarding the future development of these neighborhoods. The City and the NBEDC are hopeful that as progress is made through the creation of the riverwalk and improvements to the Acushnet Avenue corridor, that these accomplishments will increase residents' awareness and participation in future planning and development projects.

NEW BEDFORD — A draft plan for upper New Bedford Harbor revitalization proposes three new, east-west, public-access ways to the Acushnet River and a north-south walkway starting above Coggeshall Street and continuing for miles along the river to above Wood Street.

Under the plan, the public would gain access to the riverfront and walkway at both ends of the promenade or from Sawyer and Hathaway streets and Howard Avenue.

At present, there is extremely limited public access to the riverfront along the upper harbor, and no way to walk along it for any distance. A boathouse for small rowing and sailing craft is proposed for the Coggeshall Street end of the walkway, and a new park for the northern end.

Details of the plan were discussed Wednesday evening at a community meeting conducted by the city Planning Department and New Bedford Economic Development Council. Planners are seeking public comment.

Meetings will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in Riverside Park near the playground, and at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 7 in St. Anthony's Church Hall, 1359 Acushnet Ave.

About 20 people attended Wednesday's meeting; public officials outnumbered residents about 2-to-1. Those attending included Ward 1 City Councilor Linda M. Morad and Ward 2 City Councilor Steven Martins. Most of the affected area is in Mr. Martins' ward.

Derek Santos of the Economic Development Council noted the relatively sparse attendance at the meeting, held in the Brooklawn Park Community Center. "Most important to us is the quality of the exchange" of participants, Mr. Santos said, "not the quantity."

Jennifer Gonsalves, vice chairwoman of the Planning Board, said she does not remember ever having access to the waterfront along the upper harbor, and believes the current effort "represents an incredible opportunity."

The upper harbor waterfront is dominated by old mills. The neighborhood is delineated by the river to the east, Acushnet Avenue to the west, Wood Street to the north and Coggeshall Street to the south.

Residents who attended the meeting indicated that they are interested in having a walking path along the river, and comparisons were made to paths along waterways in Rhode Island and Maine.

Residents also expressed interest in efforts to upgrade Acushnet Avenue as a shopping and cultural center.

City Planner David Kennedy said that business district has been studied for 30 years. Mr. Kennedy said it has among its assets 300 stores with no more than a 10 percent vacancy rate, and public transportation along its length.

Ms. Morad suggested an effort to bring "design unity" to the avenue, possibly with new lights, planters and banners. Ms. Morad also represents the North End Business Association, and said making the avenue one-way

Beyond My Microphone

By M.J. Carvalho

In continuing to bring development and betterment to our city, the Planning Department, Planning Board and the Office of Economic Development have joined forces and prepared the Upper Harbor Vision Plan. The boundaries of the area encompass: Acushnet River west to Acushnet Avenue; from Coggeshall Street north to Wood Street. However, the boundary lines are not finite and the former Reliable Truss site, Hicks Logan Sawyer District, Harbor Plan and Brooklawn Park are also taken into consideration.

building blocks of a community. Neighborhood planning requires personal knowledge of the economic, social, and physical characteristics of the area, and the people who know these issues best are those who live there. It is essential to gather input from the residents to ensure that the fabric of the community is maintained and integrated into the Upper Harbor Vision Plan."

To that end, three meetings have been scheduled: Wednesday, July 30th at 6:00 pm at the Brooklawn Senior Center; Saturday, August 2nd at 9:30 am at Riverside Park (near the playground); Thursday, August 7th at 6:30 pm at the St. Anthony Church Hall (use Nye Street entrance). For the benefit of non-English speaking residents, translators will be present.

New Bedford residents must participate in this decision-making process and involve themselves in the outcome. Don't let others decide your future, for it is too precious a commodity. Attend these meetings and be proud to build upon a rich legacy that no one outside this city can claim. Lend your voice at these meetings and the future will speak for itself.

O Plano de Visão Upper Harbor define mudanças positivas para a nossa cidade. No entanto, você, o cidadão da nossa cidade tem que elevar a sua voz e comunicar as suas intenções, se New Bedford vai em frente como uma luz brilhante para o futuro. Conforme o Mayor Lang disse: "A voz dos cidadãos irá ajudar New Bedford a definir as metas para a área da Upper Harbor que podem capitalizar nos pontos positivos da nossa cidade ... Os melhores recursos da nossa comunidade são os nossos cidadãos e eu incentivo todos para participarem e auxiliarem a moldar o Distrito do Upper Harbor."

Por seu turno, Matthew Morrissey, Director Executivo do Conselho de Desenvolvimento Económico de New Bedford já validou a importância da intervenção dos residentes dizendo: "As vizinhanças são os pilares estratégicos da comunidade. Planeamento de vizinhanças requer conhecimento pessoal das características económicas, sociais e físicas da área, e o povo que conhece bem estes temas são aqueles que lá vivem. É essencial colhermos informação dos residentes para assegurar que o fabrico da comunidade mantêm-se íntegro no Plano de Visão Upper Harbor.

Para isso, três reuniões foram marcadas: Quarta-feira, dia 30 de Julho às 6 da tarde no Brooklawn Senior Center; Sábado, dia 2 de Agosto às 9:30 da manhã no Parque Riverside (perto dos brinquedos de crianças); e na Quinta-feira, dia 7 de Agosto às 6:30 da tarde, no Centro Paroquial de Santo António (entrada pela Nye Street). Para benefício dos residentes que não falam Inglês, tradutores estarão presentes.

Os residentes de New Bedford devem participar neste processo de decisão e envolverem-se no resultado final. Não deixe que outros decidam o seu futuro, pois é precioso demais. Esteja presente nestas reuniões e sinta-se orgulhoso de construir num legado rico que pertence somente a nós que residimos aqui. Participe nestas reuniões e o futuro falará por si próprio.

In many ways this vision plan as entrepreneurial as it can be construed, is a giant leap forward in creativity, while preserving the rich, cultural heritage of the community. To name a few examples, the Upper Harbor Vision Plan calls for a boathouse, riverwalk, heritage trail that tells the story of the Upper Harbor, access points to the river and many activities for residents. It also calls for adaptive reuse of historic mills as well as enhancing cultural traditions.

The Upper Harbor Vision Plan delineates positive change for our city. However, you, the citizen of our fair city must raise your voice and make your intentions known, if New Bedford is to go forward as a shining light into the future. As Mayor Lang has stated: "Input from residents will help New Bedford define goals for the upper harbor area that capitalize on the city's assets ... Our community's greatest resource is our citizens and I encourage everyone to participate to help shape the Upper Harbor District." In turn, Matthew Morrissey, Executive Director of the New Bedford Economic Development Council has validated the importance of resident's input by stating: "Neighborhoods are the strategic Continuando com o desenvolvimento da nossa cidade, o Gabinete de Planeamento, o Concelho de Planeamento e o Gabinete de Desenvolvimento Económico deram as mãos e prepararam o Plano de Visão da área denominada "Upper Harbor". Os limites da área são: O Rio Acushnet oeste para a Acushnet Avenue, da Coggeshall Street norte para a Wood Street. No entanto, o sítio do Reliable Truss, o Distrito Hicks Logan Sawyer, o Plano Português e o Parque Brooklawn também entram em consideração.

De muitas maneiras este plano visionário é empreendedor e pode ser considerado como um passo gigante para a frente em criatividade, enquanto conservando a herança cultural rica da comunidade. Nomeado alguns exemplos, o Plano de Visão Upper Harbor menciona uma casa de abrigo de barcos, caminho ribeirinho, um passeio panorâmico que conta a história da Upper Harbor, ponto de acesso ao rio e muitas actividades para os residentes. Também é incluído no plano adaptação de fábricas históricas assim como

Falando sem microfone

Por Maria José

Como residente de New Bedford é meu dever de me interessar sobre o desenvolvimento da cidade. Um dos projectos que despertou o meu interesse é o "Plano de Visão" da área denominada "Upper Harbor," cujos limites da área são: o Rio Acushnet, oeste para a Acushnet Avenue e da Coggeshall Street norte para a Wood Street. No entanto, o sítio do Reliable Truss, o Distrito Hicks Logan Sawyer, o Plano Portuário e o Parque Brooklawn também entram em consideração.

Num esforço colaborativo, o Gabinete de Planeamento, a Comissão de Planos e o Gabinete de Desenvolvimento Económico da Cidade de New Bedford desenvolveram este "Plano de Visão" que contém muitas iniciativas inovadoras, desde a criação de pontos de acesso ao rio Acushnet, uma casa de "botes" com actividades recreativas aquáticas para o público e um caminho ribeirinho a um passeio panorâmico, que conta a história da Upper Harbor. Incluído também no plano está a adaptação de fábricas históricas, assim como o melhoramento das tradições culturais já existentes.

Não foi esquecida a importância da área comercial da Acushnet Avenue ainda sub-utilizada no seu potencial, o que pode representar mais postos de emprego para os residentes e assim abrir portas para mais companhias escolherem New Bedford como sede para os seus produtos e serviços.

O grupo que trabalhou neste "Plano de Visão" tomou ainda em consideração certos problemas imperativos como a segurança, recomendado um posto de polícia, transportes colectivos, estacionamento para a área comercial e necessidades residenciais nesta área.

Agora que o plano está pronto para ser desvendado ao público, três reuniões foram marcadas para tal apresentação: quarta-feira, dia 30 de Julho às 6 da tarde no Brooklawn Senior Center; sábado, dia 2 de Agosto, às 9:30 da manhã, no Parque Riverside (perto dos brinquedos de crianças); e quinta-feira, dia 7 de Agosto, às 6:30 da tarde, no Centro Paroquial da Igreja de Santo António (entrada pela Nye Street). Para benefício dos residentes que não falam Inglês, tradutores estarão presentes.

Este plano contém não só algo de especial e de importante para os residentes de New Bedford, como contribui também para a diversidade do panorama naturalístico de Massachusetts. Aqui está a oportunidade ideal para o envolvimento dos residentes da área, que presentemente carece um "empurrão" de melhoramentos positivos.

Falando recentemente sobre este plano, o Mayor Lang incentivou os residentes dizendo: "A voz dos cidadãos irá ajudar New Bedford a definir as metas para a área da Upper Harbor que podem capitalizar nos pontos positivos da nossa cidade... Os melhores recursos da nossa comunidade são os nossos cidadãos e eu incentivo todos a participarem e a auxiliarem a moldar o Distrito do Upper Harbor."

Por seu turno, Matthew Morrissey, Director Executivo do Conselho de Desenvolvimento Económico de New Bedford, também validou a importância da intervenção dos residentes dizendo: "As vizinhanças são os pilares estratégicos da comunidade. Planeamento de vizinhanças requer conhecimento pessoal das características económicas, sociais e físicas da área, e o povo que conhece bem estes temas são aqueles que lá vivem. É essencial colhermos informação dos residentes para assegurar que o fabrico da comunidade mantém-se íntegro no Plano de Visão Upper Harbor."

Muito está na mesa para ser digerido pelos residentes de New Bedford, e só eles é que podem dizer de "sua justiça" sobre este plano. É hora de o conhecer, e de dar a sua opinião, avançando em frente e capitalizando no nosso legado rico em cultura, tradições e herança.

Workshop — This weekend I am in New York for my annual 12-day priest's course for the Priestly Society of the Holy Cross. About 40 priests from across the country and I have gotten together to dedicate ourselves to intense prayer and study so that we can come back to serve you with greater effectiveness and love. Please pray for me and my brother priests over the course of the next few days. Fr. Ron Floyd is manning the fort during the week. Fr. Dufour is taking the Masses this weekend. I look forward to seeing you next weekend!

Dangerous Curriculum Set To Be Implemented in New Bedford Public Schools — There is a very disturbing new program being piloted to some students in the New Bedford Schools. The Human Rights Campaign — one of the most aggressive gay rights groups in the country— has developed a curriculum that, under the guise of stopping bullying, has as its real objective to program kids to think that no family structure is better than another, that there's no real importance to having a married mother and father, and that grandma is mistaken when she says that people of the same-sex cannot or should not marry. It's trying to align the kids' values on sexuality, marriage and family with those of the pro-homosexuality movement, rather than according to the wisdom of their parents and grandparents, almost all civilizations throughout the centuries, Jesus Christ and the Church he founded. The curriculum is called "Welcoming Schools" and it is being piloted in the Campbell, Winslow and Taylor Schools this year, before, presumably, being brought to other public schools in subsequent years. What's really happening is that those who support the gay agenda, while pretending to try to stop childhood bullying, are in fact trying to use the public schools to bully families who oppose that agenda. I would urge all New Bedford residents — but particularly parents of those in the city's public schools — to call (508.997.4511) or email (pbonner@newbedford.k12.ma.us) the new Superintendent, Dr. Portia Bonner, as well as members of the School Committee, to express opposition to the program. There are plenty of anti-bullying curricula that could be used in schools. New Bedford does not have to use one that is a Trojan Horse to indoctrinate our children with a false and harmful understanding of what it means to be a boy or girl, of sexuality, of marriage and of the family. Those who would like to see more of the curriculum are encouraged to visit the HRC's website, hrc.org/issues/parenting/schools/7201.htm. I would particularly encourage parents to read through the following Q&A that teachers are encouraged to say to their children: hrc.org/documents/schools_Questions_Children_Ask.pdf.

The Truth That Sets Love Free — July 25 is the 40th anniversary of Humanae Vitae. The insert in today's bulletin has two articles from the Massachusetts Catholic Conference on marriage that relate to the moral regulation of fertility as well as the honest relationship of love between husband and wife. In terms of some of the larger issues of the 40th anniversary, I print here the editorial I wrote for our diocesan newspaper:

The love of man and woman in marriage was meant from the beginning to be a "sacrament" of the love within the heart of the Blessed Trinity. God created man in his image... “male and female he created them” (1 John 4:16; Gen 1:27-28). He who is love created the human person to love as he loves (1 John 4:16, Jn 15:13). As a Trinitarian communion of persons, in which the overflowing love of Father and Son eternally generates the Holy Spirit, God created the human person male and female according to that image, so that man and woman could exist in a communion of persons in love so strong that their love, too, could generate a third person, who would both be a fruit of their loving union and a means by which it can be nourished and grow. Through procreation, in other words, husband and wife participate in God’s continual creation, reflect the image of the divine Giver, and grow into greater communion with each other and with God.

Since human persons’ greatest identity, dignity and vocation are found in their being made in God’s image and called to grow into God’s likeness; since they do that by living out the nuptial meaning of their personality, entering into a loving communion of persons through a mutual exchange of self-gifts; and since the way most human beings achieve this is through entering into the one-flesh union of a man and a woman in marriage; anything that corrupts the essential meaning of marital love has enormous consequences.

This is why Pope Paul VI’s prophetic encyclical Humanae Vitae, the 40th anniversary of which the Church celebrates next week, is so important. The teaching of this encyclical does not concern something peripheral to Christian life that Catholics and others can discard or ignore without consequence. It involves something indeed central to a person’s walk with the Lord and to genuine human fulfillment. For if the real meaning of human love is falsified, then not only will the institutions of marriage and family be weakened, but all interactions with God and others, which are supposed to be based on self-giving love, will be affected.

In Humanae Vitae, Pope Paul VI reaffirmed the Church’s perennial teaching that the use of contraception in marriage is always immoral. The immediate occasion for the encyclical was the invention of the birth control pill, which some theologians posited would not fall under the Church’s traditional prohibition of contraception since it worked chemically to prevent ovulation within a woman and, unlike male or female prophylactics, did not prevent the physical completion of the marital act. Pope John XXIII had commissioned a panel in 1963 to investigate the question and Paul VI continued the group’s work. At the end of their study, a majority of members thought that the modality of the pill made it morally different from other forms of birth control; a minority, which included the future John Paul II, maintained that the same defect was present in both: the choice to do something to render the marital act unfruitful and intentionally separate the unitive from the procreative meaning of the act. Paul VI prayed, studied both reports and received other counsel. At the end of the process of discernment, he concluded that the use of the pill was morally similar to the use of other contraceptives and reaffirmed the Church’s perennial teaching that the use of contraception to render the marital act intentionally unfruitful is always immoral.

The document couldn’t have been released at a worse time, at the height of the sexual revolution, when there was so much instability in the world and within the Church. Many Catholic married couples and clergy immediately dissented from the teaching, outraged that Paul VI would reject the findings of the majority of the experts. But one of the items in the encyclical’s favor is the fact that Paul VI, a man very much open to consultation and forming consensus, rejected the findings of the majority report. He knew well that truth isn’t determined by vote and that he had a duty, in charity, to give witness to the truth, even if many would reject it.

Within the encyclical, the Holy Father acknowledged that married couples could indeed have serious and morally valid reasons — medical, psychological, economic and social — to desire to avoid becoming pregnant, but he stressed that they needed to use morally-valid means, like natural family planning. The essential difference between contraception and NFP has nothing to do with one’s being artificial and the other natural. Rather, in contraception the spouses’ reject the built-in procreative meaning of each other’s sexuality in the very act made by God for it to be expressed, whereas in natural family planning, the couples accept each other in their totality, which involves God’s creating woman with a cyclical pattern to her fertility. In contraception, the couple seeks to come into one-flesh union willing against their one-flesh union in a child; in NFP, the couple puts no obstacle but simply accepts the woman’s God-given temporary infertility. In contraception, God and his will are essentially “evicted” from the bedroom; in the use of NFP, God’s will is embraced and a couple learns to learn how to express their love in deeper ways outside of the bedroom. In the use of contraception, since the reproductive meaning of the reproductive act is rejected, pleasure, rather than being by a fruit of the act, often becomes the purpose of the act, and spouses can begin consensually to use each other for pleasure; using the other, however, is the opposite of loving the other, and once pleasure becomes the goal of the marital act, rather than “making love,” the act actually begins to corrode whatever love that’s there. In the use of NFP, rather than using each other for sexual pleasure, the couple begins to grow in chastity and husbands in particular grow in tenderness toward the woman’s natural rhythms. There are huge and indisputable consequences that flow from these essential differences between contraception and NFP. In various studies it has been demonstrated that the use of contraception within marriage increases the divorce rate, which already is about 50 percent; the divorce rate for those who use NFP is less than two percent.

Paul VI also predicted that as the use of contraception expanded, there would be a general lowering of moral standards throughout society, a rise in infidelity, a lessening of respect for women by men and the coercive use of contraceptives by governments. Since 1968, all of these prophecies have proven true. Moral standards have plummeted as condoms are passed out like candy and many adolescents treat sexual hook-ups like casual events. Marital infidelity and divorce have skyrocketed to proportions that few would have thought possible 40 years ago. Through contraception, men have begun to look at sexual activity without the responsibly to support any child conceived and his mother; when a child is conceived, it often is looked at as the mother’s problem, since she could have prevented it by contraception. It’s unsurprising that widespread contraceptive use has made the number of his sexual partners surge as well. In terms of coercion by governments, we can look not only toward the repressive one-child policy in China that imposes contraception, sterilizations and abortions, but also to all the development assistance from first-world countries that is tied to third-world countries’ acceptance of these same evil practices. If all of Paul VI’s predictions have proven valid, then it is a very good indication, even to secularists, that his analysis of the causes of those practices was also valid.

For Catholics, Humanae Vitae is not just about the beauty of God's plan for marital love and life and the evil of contraception, but about faith. Catholics believe that the Holy Spirit guides the Church to all truth and prevents her from ever making a mistake once about something relevant to what we need to believe or do to please God and enter into his life. If a Catholic thinks that the Church does not have the authority to teach on the essential meaning of love and of marriage, and specifically how contraception violates Christ-like love, then the Church would logically have no authority to teach on faith and morals at all. The crisis of Humanae Vitae exposed a crisis of faith. The 40th anniversary of this encyclical is an occasion for the whole Church to grow in faith and, through accepting and following the teachings of the encyclical, grow in the type of human love that will help to redeem marriages, families and society as a whole.

Parish Pastoral Council Membership — In order to keep the parish pastoral council continually renewed with new ideas and energy, every Fall I appoint at least three new members to take the place of three or more departing members on the 15 person council. The purpose of the council is to advise and assist me in the pastoral care of the members of the parish and on a wide variety of other matters. Duties involve attendance at a monthly meeting between September and June (generally on the first or second Monday night of the month), an openness to thinking through various issues affecting the parish and to express one's prayerful and prudent opinion about steps forward, and a willingness to take on a leadership role in the parish, which will generally show itself in leading a particular project or subcommittee over the course of the year. If you would be interested in serving on the parish pastoral council or would like to have me consider someone you believe would be a great leader in the parish, please email me or drop me a note by the end of July. In forming the Council, my objective in choosing the three new members will be to balance several things — skill-sets, age, sex, ethnicity, etc., so that the Council not only can represent the whole parish, but also function as an "executive team" with the ability together to get a lot accomplished. I would like to thank all those leaders of our parish who have ably served on the parish pastoral council during the past year, in which we've made great strides on the objectives of stewardship, increasing community spirit, and with regard to the Catholic Charities campaign.

Daily Holy Hours — I encourage every person or family in the parish to try to come to the afternoon holy hour in the parish at least one time a week. The holy hour is held Monday through Thursday from 5:15-6:15 pm and features the sung Liturgy of the Hours, the recitation of the Holy Rosary, adoration of the Lord in the Blessed Sacrament, confessions (whenever I'm present) and other prayers.

UPCOMING SECOND COLLECTIONS

FARMER'S MARKET COUPONS — The Parish's Fr. McGivney Council of the Knights of Columbus, will host the Community Mainstream Program of Coastline Elderly Services Inc., in the distribution of Farmer Market Coupons to elder parishioners of Saint Anthony of Padua of Farmer after the Masses this weekend. These coupons can be used by elders at the local farmer markets, the closest designated site being at Brooklawn Park of New Bedford. Farmers' Market is a nutrition program sponsored by the Executive Office of Elder Affairs, and the Massachusetts' Departments of Agricultural Resources and Public Health. In order to be eligible for the $30 coupons value, the person must be over the age of 60 and certify that he or she is eligible for Food Stamps, Fuel Assistance, SSI, MA Health, or subsidized housing. This opportunity is limited to the first 30 qualifying elders. Please direct any questions concerning this opportunity to Steven Guillotte/Community Mainstream Director @ 508 863-5928

BATTERY-OPERATED FANS — There are a couple of dozen small battery-operated fans available in the sacristy to help parishioners on particularly hot days. They are the gift of Mr. & Mrs. Roger Michaud. If any adults would like to use one, simply stop into the sacristy before Mass and you can borrow one for the Mass on the honor system.

TRIDENTINE MASS — On the first Saturday of every month, we celebrate the 8 am morning Mass in Latin according to the 1962 Roman Missal of Pope Blessed John XXIII. The Franciscan Sisters of the Immaculate lead everyone in singing the Gregorian Chants. Booklets and explanatory sheets are provided. All are welcome. The next first Saturday Mass is August 2.

UPPER HARBOR VISION PLAN COMMUNITY MEETING — On Thursday, August 7 at 6:30 pm in our parish hall, the City of New Bedford will be hosting a community meeting to get community input on the new Upper Harbor Vision Plan. The Upper Harbor Community includes the Acushnet River, Acushnet Avenue, Historic Mills and Neighborhoods. Mayer Lang and the City Planning Department want to hear your feedback on the draft vision plan that was developed at a public planning workshop in February. The city needs you to help shape the future growth and development of our neighborhoods. Portuguese and Spanish translators will be available. Similar meetings will take place July 30 at 6 pm at the Brooklawn Senior Center and August 2 at 9:30 am at Riverside Park. Please make plans to come. This is our community — and we need to take control over the future.

CHOWDER/CLAMCAKE SUPPER — The St. Anthony's CFLI Chapter 3 will be hosting a Chowder and Clamcake supper to celebrate the Solemnity of the Assumption on Friday August 15 at 6:30 pm in the parish hall. All profits will go to our Organ Restoration Fund. The meal will be prepared by Magr. Levesque. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children under 15. Reservations must be made by August 11 by calling Nancy (508.995.1604), Lillian (508.996.2151) or Pauline at the rectory (508.993.1691). All are welcome!

TRAVELING IMAGE OF OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE — On the evening of September 2, we will have the privilege of welcoming the traveling image of Our Lady of Guadalupe here to St. Anthony's. We are still in the process of developing a program of prayer and veneration for the night, but please save the date.

VOCATIONS HOLY HOUR — This Thursday, July 31, at 7 pm at St. Julie Billiart Church in North Dartmouth, Bishop Coleman will lead a holy hour for priestly vocations, followed by a light reception with our seminarians in the parish hall. All parishioners of St. Anthony's are welcome and encouraged to attend. The Lord Jesus told us to pray to the harvest master for laborers in his field and this is a great opportunity, around a successor to the Apostles, to beg the Lord to send laborers to work in the vineyard of the parishes of our Diocese.
