4B the reasons for the decision to be overturned:

The property is owned by Anthony DeCosta. It is used by his business, A-1 Asphalt. That business has been located on that property since 1963 when the company was started by Mr. DeCosta's father, Charles DeCosta, Sr.

A-1 Asphalt is a contractor, and uses the property primarily as its contractor's yard. It began operating its asphalt paving business from this property in 1963. The company contracts to build new paved surfaces (driveways, parking lots, roads etc.), and also to replace existing paved surfaces. In both cases the project will involve excavating the site whether it is previously paved or not, and bringing the excavated materials to the yard to be stockpiled. That material is then reused either as fill, base, or aggregate depending on the needs of that or other jobs. A-1's vehicles and equipment are kept at the yard.

Preparing the material for use involves screening the materials to segregate soils, stone and broken asphalt. The broken asphalt and the larger stones are crushed so that they can be used as base material. A-1 has been crushing stone and asphalt at its yard since the early 1990's.

The company does not provide its own hot asphalt, and it does not store hot asphalt at the yard. The hot asphalt is purchased from batch asphalt companies in Acushnet and Rochester.

Since 2011 A-1 has been a subcontractor on projects involving the demolition and reconstruction of various public works, including the Purchase Street railroad bridge, several projects at the New Bedford Airport, and the Faunce Corner Road reconstruction. Those projects have involved removing, transporting, screening, crushing and redelivering materials to those and other project sites for use as loam, fill or aggregate.

All of these activities are within the scope of the allowed uses in the Industrial B zone for the following reasons:

A contractor's yard is expressly permitted as a use in the Industrial B zone. See Chapter 9, Comprehensive Zoning, 2210 and Appendix A at D. Industrial, 13. contractor's yard.

There has been no change of the principal use of the property as a contractor's yard since 1963.

The May 18, 2016 cease and desist order from the Commissioner of Buildings, Danny Romanowicz, states that the specific violation with regard to use of the property as a contractor's yard is that "you have failed to obtain a building permit for any structures associated with, or the operation of, A-1 Asphalt" and "you have failed to obtain the required permit for a contractor's yard".

A-1 Asphalt operated out of a garage which was built pursuant to a building permit obtained in 1932. When A-1 Asphalt began using the property as a contractor's yard in 1963 there was no State Building Code. The State Building Code didn't come into effect until 1975. The provisions of the zoning ordinance at Sec. 5110 regarding the change in use of a building, and the "issuance of a Building Permit or Certificate of Use and Occupancy where required under the Commonwealth's State Building Code" cannot apply to a prior existing, conforming use.

The Building Department has issued permits related to A-1 Asphalt's use of the property as a contractor's yard in 1973 (installation of gas pumps), 1999 (electrical work for diesel fuel pumps), and 2000 (replacement of defective electrical cable) with no apparent complaint about the use of the property.

The May 18, 2016 cease and desist letter also states that "the rock and concrete crushing operations and the crushing and recycling of other materials are not permitted activities in a contractor's yard as defined in the Code of Ordinances".

The present zoning ordinance took effect in 2002. A-1 has been engaged in crushing stone and concrete in its yard since the 1990's.

At that time the applicable zoning ordinance provided that:

"Within any Industrial "B" District, as indicated on the building zone map, any use otherwise lawful shall be permitted except a building or structure intended or designed to be used in whole or in part for residential purposes or for use as a fish fillet plant or fish processing plant". Sec. 9-253 Uses.

There is nothing that suggests that crushing stone or concrete is not otherwise lawful. So it was, until 2002, an allowed use in the Industrial "B" zone. As such that use is a prior existing non-conforming use, and the provisions of the 2002 zoning code do not apply to that use.

For the reasons stated above A1's use of the property is permitted under the zoning ordinance and under state law. The Commissioner of Buildings Cease and desist order should be overturned.
